

Lorenzo Martínez García

Born in Murcia, Spain.

Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery at the University of Granada in 1970.

Degree in National Health of the Ministry of Health (1975) that gives him the skills for the practice of medicine in the Centres of Public Health.

Degree of speciality in Labour Medicine by the Ministry of Health that enables the development of private activities related to Medicine and Surgery.

Degree of Specialist in Orthopaedic Surgery and Traumatology by the Ministry of Education and Science that enables him to practise traumatology and orthopaedics specialities on the whole territory.

Over the past 30 years, he has taken part in many congresses, symposia and meetings on orthopaedic surgery and traumatology on a national and international scale. Moreover, he has made many publications in outstanding magazines of orthopaedic surgery and traumatology.